The staff of the quarterly and the members of the society wish to extend our sympathy to Mrs. Horace (Mary Ellen) Epler on the death of Mr. Epler in September. Mr. and Mrs. Epler have been members of the society for a long time, and he will be missed by all.

* * * * *

At the September 1978 board meeting, the members of the board voted to accept the resignation of Mrs. Marcella Moore from the position of Corresponding Secretary. Mrs. Moore will retain her membership in the Society, but she finds it impossible to be active in the society at this time.

It was also decided to ask Mrs. Mary Swakoff to fill the position of Corresponding Secretary. Mary graciously accepted the job, and we have already put her to work. The staff is confident that she will fill Marcella's shoes and will be of great help to all of us. Please be sure to help Mary whenever she asks.

THE NEXT ISSUE OF THE QUARTERLY WILL BE ON THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR ERA, PLEASE SEND YOU MATERIAL TO THE EDITOR OR ASSISTANT EDITOR.

THANK YOU

The Central Florida Genealogical and Historical Society was organized in 1969. The Society welcomes everyone interested in genealogy, the history of the state and nation, and in furthering the objectives of the Society. Annual membership begins the first day of March and ends the last day of February.

The regular monthly meetings are held on the final Thursday of the months September through May, at 7:30 p.m. Exceptions to the date of meetings and the place for meetings are designated by the President.

All meetings are open to the public. Visitors are welcome and members are urged to bring guests.

CALENDAR

October 26

November 30

December meeting date to be announced later

PLACE

College Park Women's Civic Club, 714 W. Dartmouth, Orlando, Florida.

The newsletter staff is pleased to announce the new name for this publication. Many names were suggested, and from those the following name was selected by the staff.

This publication will be known as a quarterly and will be called:

BURIED TREASURES

This name was selected because so many genealogical records are BURIED and we must dig for them. When we find those records, they become TREASURES to us.

Many of our members went on BURIED TREASURE "hunts" during the past summer. Have you remembered that the information you "dug up" may be interesting to other people. Please let your editor see your material so that she might choose some of it to publish in our quarterly.

Thank you for sharing.

SOCIETY NEWS

For the first time in several years, the members attended a meeting during the summer months. In June, we had a short meeting, after which members told about their research plans for the summer.

In July, we held a picnic at the home of member James Riffle, Jr., who with the help of his wife Patsy made everyone welcome. Through donations by some members, chicken was purchased and was charcoal broiled by Wally Hughson and Jim Riffle. Other members brought covered dishes - in fact there were so many dishes that the tables were also covered. We hope to make a picnic a part of our yearly schedule.

Members played games (between rain showers) and it was discovered that we have some ladies with great power in their arms. Guess all that copying of records helps when you want to throw a rolling pin for distance. The men also had their chance at throwing the rolling pin, but not in the same contest as the women. Women's lib doesn't go that far.

The highlight of the entertainment was "Country Dancing by Kathryn White." Kathryn performed several dances for the group, - The Sailor's Hornpipe, the Irish Jig and the Highland Fling.

And a good time was had by all.

At the board meeting in August, several names of prospective members were offered, those people were voted into membership at the September meeting.

NEW MEMBERS:

Mrs. LaRonde Harriett Zylkowski, 1007 Ridgely Avenue, Ocoee, Florida 32761
Mrs. Murla Weeks Bennett, P. O. Box 1457, Maitland, Florida 32751
Mrs. Linda W. Wagner, 144 Stirling Avenue, Orlando, Florida
Mr. Guy T. Thomas, 717 Maloney Lane, Orlando, Florida 32807
Miss Judy Reilly, 2019 E. Weber Street, Orlando, Florida 32803
Mr. John Bowen, 3001 E. Central Boulevard, Orlando, Florida
Reinstated - Mrs. Thelma Bowen, 3001 E. Central Blvd., Orlando, Florida

The membership of the society has voted to join the FEDERATION OF GENEALOGICAL SOCIETIES, and has named Eileen Brookhart Willis to be our delegate at their next convention. Mrs. Willis is also a delegate for Orlando Public Library and is planning to attend the next meeting of the Federation, which is to be held in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The members of the board voted to secure a non-profit status for the Society, with the State of Florida. George Miles is now working on this and will announce his progress at a later meeting.

The Society also voted to have a booth at the HIGHLAND GAMES that will be held at Edgewater High School, Orlando, Florida on January 13, 1979. Our forms will be on sale, as well as tea and coffee. We are also writing to a Scottish jewelry company to see if we may sell, on consignment, some of his merchandise.

STOCKBRIDGE VETERAN WHO 'DIED' TWICE RECEIVES FINAL SALUTE

By Donald Kampfer
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Stockbridge - The crack of '06 Springfield rifles in a graveside salute Wednesday — the same type rifle that once saved his life — wrote the final chapter in the life story of Joseph Blob, 64, Stockbridge World War I veteran who "died" twice.

Blob died of natural causes Sunday, almost 42 years after an adjutant general in the war department erroneously signed a death certificate declaring him "killed in action." He was buried at St. Joseph cemetery, Appleton, leaving behind a widow, three brothers and three sisters.

During World War I Blob was a member of Company H, 353rd Infantry, 89th division. He entered service April 26, 1918, and by July 1 of the same year was in the trenches, where he served in combat until the time of his "death", Nov 1.

On that date his outfit moved into the battle of the Arrgonne and a German shell burst about a dozen yards to the left of Blob and three buddies.

Blob was buried head down in the earth by the blast with only his feet remaining above ground. He often related to patrons in his Stockbridge tavern that he didn't remember much about what happened after that. Blob generally added that stretcher bearers later told him they assumed he was dead and went on to care for others. When they returned later they found he was unconscious but alive.

Life Line

Fortunately, he had just removed a cartridge from the chamber of his Springfield seconds before the enemy shell struck and the breech remained open. As he fell his face was next to the opened rifle barrel with the muzzle protruding above the earth's surface.

Though wounded, the slim supply of air through the rifle barrel kept him alive until he was rescued. Blob never again saw his three companions.

Four weeks later his parents received official notice of his death. They refused to believe the message and in fact turned down a government insurance settlement.

After months of hospitalization Blob returned to the Appleton home of his parents in March, 1919. His death certificate and clippings of many periodicals which told of his death were displayed behind the bar of his Stockbridge tavern.

Thus as breech bolts of the Springfields, now in the hands of Stockbridge Legionnaires snapped back ejecting spent brass just as Blob had done on that fateful Nov 1, 1918, the story of the man who died twice came to an end.

VETERAN PRIZES TELEGRAM TELLING OF DEATH IN ACTION

By Special Correspondent of the Hournal

Stockbridge, Wis. - If necessity should require it, Joseph P. A. Blob of this village could go into a court and with duly authenticated documents prove that he has been dead for more than 17 years. A telegram of Nov. 18, 1918 addressed to his father, Joseph, and signed by an official in the American army headquarters in France, says so.

Blob, a private in Company A, 353d infantry of the American expeditionary forces was severely wounded in the battle of the Argonne. His death certificate was mistakenly made out Nov. 1, 1918. He had revived from his injuries sufficiently to write his parents Nov. 4 and again Nov. 7. These letters were received by his parents in due time. Then on Dec. 18, a telegram was received from army headquarters stating that Joseph had been killed in action Nov. 1.

The parents refused to believe this message, since they had received letters from their son subsequent to the date given. They refused a life insurance settlement which was offered them. Joseph returned home in 1919 and treasures the telegrams and other papers which chronicled his death as a grim memorial.

The articles concerning Joseph P.A. Blob were submitted by his nephew:

Robert J. Guilfoyle, Sr.

Dear Eva

I received your card yesterday. I am glad you are enjoying yourself.
Mr. C. has never been in since you left.

Clara is hanging on at Hamilton's yet although she is grumbling Art is sick again. Florris (?) has been home to sleep for two nights her and Maud Chambus untid (?) rented (?) wheels last night and just when they got over to our place Maud fell and smashed her wheel so they had bad luck. Well we had a little excitement over here last night. I was over Aunt Mary's and missed Bessie Chion (?) and our Ethel promised two young men to go for a drive. It seems Mrs. C does not approve of a girl out driving alone told Bessie not to dare go. Ethel and her fellow (Mr. Mathers) drove off Bessie and Mr. Hunter were in the rig when out came Mrs. C. she pulled Bessie out of the Buggie and tore her dress the fellow tried to coax? up the old folks but Chow (?) told him to be off. I tell you it was a hot time down here Bessie yelled and ran down to Fitzgeralds and made a big show of herself I will now change the subject. Did you hear about poor Mr. Sabin the morning you left he went out early to catch a fish for Mrs. Sabin the swells of the steamer is supposed to have upsett his boat and as he could not swim he was drowned it has cast a gloom over their whole neighborhood. Cecilia was here yesterday it is very sad we have awfull hot weather everything is burned up if you can stay up there you better you will never get as good a chance of fresh air again (sic) I had a letter from Mrs. Henley (?) about Woolie Mrs. Haywood is dangerously ill she will send me what she owes me in a few days we are pretty well O bye the bye Mrs. Packenham has a lovely fat baby boy born at eight o'clock Tuesday 19th evening

Write soon again we are all lonely here give my love to Lizzie and best wishes to her friends

GENEALOGICAL SOURCE MATERIALS IN THE TENNESSEE STATE LIBRARY AND ARCHIVES

The Tennessee State Library and Archives has a large and varied collection of materials useful for genealogical research.

Published and manuscript family histories have been catalogued and arranged so that information on specific family names can be readily found.

Published Tennessee histories give background information. Biographical information on Tennesseans can be found through special indexes. Tennessee histories, manuscript material and newspaper clippings regarding events and people in the counties are arranged for easy access. Periodicals published by family associations, genealogical and historical organizations are in the collection as are standard guides to their contents. Not only are published works on Tennessee collected, but also works on other southern states and on regions from which Tennesseans came.

Compiled family histories and local histories cannot always provide information needed. Primary source materials must be searched for information. Not until the twentieth century has the state collected records most valuable to the genealogist, that is, birth, marriage and death records. Various sources must be used to find such information. Land records can give locations of specific persons in the state. Land to which North Carolina and Tennessee gave title is well recorded and the records are well indexed. From tax lists of the counties, minimum ages for the persons listed can be established. Census records can give approximate birth dates. All extant Tennessee population schedules before 1900 are available at the Tennessee State Library and Archives.

County records need to be searched for marriage licenses. These records are available on microfilm and, in some instances, in transcribed form. Wills give approximate death dates and also link generations. These are available in the county records.

Although there is no index to Tennessee newspapers, the marriage and death notices which appeared in the early Nashville newspapers have been listed.

The Tennessee State Library and Archives has a large collection of family records copied from bibles. These are indexed by principal families listed. The Tennessee Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the National Society of Colonial Dames have been active in collecting and preserving these records in the Library and Archives.

Military records of Tennesseans are housed here and indexes have been prepared to these records. Land records give information about soldiers who served during the Revolutionary War. Muster rolls of companies serving in the War of

TENNESSEE STATE LIBRARY AND ARCHIVES - Con't

1812 are indexed. Records of soldiers who served in the War with Mexico, the Seminole Wars, and the Civil War are available. Unofficial records of Tennesseans in the Spanish-American and the First World War are also available.

The Library and Archives is open from 8:00 to 4:30, Monday through Saturday. The building is closed on all national holidays, Good Friday and on state and national election days. When a holiday occurs on Friday, the building is closed the following Saturday. When a holiday occurs on Monday, the building is closed the preceeding Saturday.

The Library and Archives is divided into areas according to the function each performs. The Library contains published material; the Archives, state and county records and the Manuscripts Section, private papers of Tennessean and Tennessee organizations. The Restoration and Reproduction Section provides photocopying services.

SEPTEMBER MEETING

On September 28, 1978 the ninth birthday of our Society was celebrated. Our President, Russell V. Carr, kept the meeting short, but most interesting. During that meeting an Honorary Membership was presented to Kathryn White, Miss White, the daughter of members, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kenneth (Andrea H.) White, was honored because of the educational background of the dances she has performed for the entertainment of the society members.

After the meeting, the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Jane Fletcher, Archivist at Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, showed us many interesting items of historical interest. While Mrs. Fletcher explained the significance of each item, her helper passed them around the room for the members to examine. We hope that everyone enjoyed the program.

After the meeting and program the beautiful birthday cake was cut, punch was poured and the members spent the rest of the evening enjoying the dessert that was prepared by Mrs. Kathleen Barber and Robert Guilfoyle. Next year, 1979, will be our tenth birthday celebration. Let's make it an even happier occasion.

VISITING RECORD REPOSITORIES

As many of you have discovered, it is becoming more difficult to do your family genealogical research in courthouses, state buildings, and even in some state libraries. The following is an excerpt of a notice given to all visitors at the Hall of Records, Annapolis, Maryland.

"Due to an alarming increase in the theft of archival materials from repositories throughout the nation, we have been forced to institute tighter security procedures at the Hall of Records"

The article goes on to say that packages, brief cases, etc. will be subject to search when you leave the building. If you see anyone taking records that do not belong to them, please report that person to the building security personnel.

BROWSING CORNER

On Thursday, July 20, several members of the Society enjoyed a tour of Orange County Courthouse. Our guide was very nice and made sure we understood the arrangement of old records in all areas of the courthouse. She arranged for us to visit the section of the building that is off limits to the casual visitor - the room that will hold the 911 emergency call system.

The complete tour was very interesting to all of us, but the one room that held my attention was the Law Library. She told us that the library held records of litigation from the beginning of Florida records. As we did not have time to examine the books on that day, I decided I would go back at the first opportunity.

When I did go back to the Law Library, I looked around quite a bit, before going to the Florida books. Much to my surprise, I found records on most of the states in the United States. I got so interested in the books on Maryland that I did not even take them to the table (they are heavy), but instead sat in the middle of the aisle between the stacks and looked at as many as I could. This also saves precious time that would have been used in carrying the books back to their place, as the public is asked to reshelve the books that are used.

Many times I had asked about using law libraries, but had always been told that those books wouldn't have anything I would be interested in, so remember again - NEVER TAKES ANYONE ELSE'S WORD ABOUT WHERE TO FIND RECORDS - look for yourself. If a member of your family has been in litigation of any sort, there just may be a record of the case in the state records. In looking through one book, I saw records of a marriage. Who knows what else can be found in your Local Law Library.

GRAVE INSCRIPTIONS

contributed by: Peter Burrows

Here lies Mary the wife of John Ford,
We hope her soul is gone to the Lord;
But if for Hell she has changed this life
She had better be there than be John Ford's wife.

Here lies a woman,
No man can deny it,
She died in peace, although she lived unquiet
Her husband prays, if e'er this way you walk,
You would tread softly-if she wake she'll talk.

This spot is the sweetest I've seen in my life,
For it raises my flowers and covers my wife.

SCOTTISH FAMILY HISTORY

The "Genealogical Publishing Company" has issued a reprint of "Scottish Family History". A guide to works of reference on the History and Genealogy of Scottish Families. By: Margaret Stuart. To which is prefixed an essay on How To Write The History Of A Family. By Sir James Balfour Paul, K.C.V.O., L.L.D., Emeritus Lord Lyon King of Arms, 1978. viii, 386 pp $15.00 (Filby 4714). This book may be purchased from:

As a matter of interest, the above book was last published 48 years ago.
More genealogical information.

More genealogical information - The Mormon Church has compiled an alphabetical listing of all passenger manifests from ships entering American harbors up to 1846. These lists are on microfilm and are available through most Mormon Churches, as are microfilm readers. The only cost involved is a postage fee. The listings of entries after 1846 are also available but are not yet alphabetized.

There is also a publication which is a guide to genealogical records in the National Archives. It is the "Guide to Genealogical Records in the National Archives" (National Archives Publication No. 64-9) which costs .50¢. This pub is also listed under Library of Congress Catalog Card No. A64-7048. Either of these are available from:
