June 1994

Dear Members and Friends:

Summer has arrived and many of us have already left Central Florida for the well known haunts of our ancestors. As some prepare for the excitement of courthouse and cemetery visits, others such as myself will spend their summer on the "catching-up" process. As with all genealogists, we often tend to "put aside" certain tasks in our own research such as placing and answering queries, sending for vital records, and writing to family members for assistance. I think that it is sometimes helpful to sit back and take a good look at the mountain of paperwork in our files then spend a few days to "get a grip" on our research progress! If you see a workshop or seminar being offered in your area, don't hesitate to take advantage of it - even if it is a Beginner's Workshop! Often, it is the review of basic materials that "wakes us up" and leads us down the golden path to the answers we have been seeking for some time.

Speaking of paths - CFGS is not following a golden path this September, but rather a silver one - our 25th Anniversary Celebration. I know it seems impossible that 25 years have passed since our formation, but it has certainly been a productive and growth-related quarter century. As I mentioned in my last Buried Treasures message, CFGS will officially celebrate their 25th Anniversary at our September meeting. We look forward to not only a great speaker and much reminiscing but visits from old friends as well. Since this will be my final President's message, I wish to thank all of my society members and most importantly, the officers, directors and chairpersons that have given so much of themselves during my term. I could not have done it without all of you - it is not only the love of genealogy but a willingness to share that makes us truly the way we are - thank you for all that you had to share!

Happy Researching,

Ann Mohr Osisek
President

CAPTAIN SOLOMON KEYES (1701 - 1755)

and his son Danforth Keyes (1740 - 1826)

by Richard A. Connell

Solomon(3) KEYES, third of the name in Massachusetts, was born May 11, 1701, in Chelmsford, son of Solomon and Mary (____) KEYES. He was of the fourth generation of KEYES in the Colonies. Solomon must have been a physical stalwart, a brave frontiersman and a real pioneer for he bore arms at least twice in defense of his homeland, the last time at the cost of his life.

In 1725, he was among 34 men recruited by Captain John LOVEWELL to put down a Pequawket Indian raiding party of about 85 savages who had been molesting the frontier villages. The two forces met near Fryeburg, Maine. Paugus the Indian chief was killed, and LOVEWELL was also killed along with 19 of his men. Only 14 survived, and nine of these were wounded. After a heated fight, the Indians finally retreated and the frontiersmen won the battle. Solomon KEYES was "mortally" wounded (says the story); he sustained three wounds but managed to get away by rolling into a convenient canoe and drifting across the pond. It is said that Solomon took the gold wampum belt from Paugus. [This likely is true. In 1988, Robert BUCK, a hardware merchant in Warren, Massachusetts, and also a descendant of Solomon KEYES, told me that his mother had that wampum belt in the bank vault in Warren. I did not see it.]

Soon after the LOVEWELL battle, Solomon married Sarah, the daughter of Jonathan(2) DANFORTH, of Billerica, Massachusetts [qv], and they moved to the western part of Brookfield where they were among the founders of Western Massachusetts - in Worcester County - which became an established town in 1742. The name of the town was later changed to "Warren" in 1834. It lies on the north side of the Old Boston Post Road. There is a Keyes Avenue and the homestead that Solomon built there still stands, although it has been considerably added to, over the years. In the front yard stands an enormous old elm tree on the spot where a predecessor huge elm stood in the days of the Revolutionary War. It is said that General George WASHINGTON drank from the KEYES' well, under that elm, when he passed by on his way to Boston, and stopped here to see his old friend, Colonel Danforth KEYES, who commanded the Brookfields Militia Regiment of Minutemen. The house was built in 1740, and Danforth was the first child of Solomon and Sarah (DANFORTH) KEYES to be born in this house. [Robert BUCK showed me a large glass tumbler, called a "toddy", which is said to have been used by George WASHINGTON. He also showed me an old photograph of the homestead which I copied and have in my file.]

Between 1727 and 1742, Solomon and Sarah had eight children, apparently all born in Western, Massachusetts. Six of these were married and had numerous children. Solomon(4) KEYES was with his father at the Battle at Lake George, New York, in September 1755, as were also his brothers Danforth and David. Solomon(4) was mortally wounded in the battle and he died on October 1 at nearby Fort Edward. Solomon(3) their father, was killed outright in the early morning of September 8, in the opening skirmish of the battle. Both were probably buried in New York, near the place where they died.

CAPTAIN SOLOMON KEYES - continued

Danforth KEYES, at age 16, came through that Battle at Lake George unscathed. He continued to serve in the war against the French and Indians, was in the assault on Fort Ticonderoga in 1758, and was with General AMHERST's troops at the defeat of Montreal. His regiment returned across Vermont in the winter, to Charlestown; most of the men were barefoot by then. The town of Hardwick, Caledonia County, Vermont was granted to Danforth KEYES and his companions, and some of his sons settled there after the Revolutionary War. They also were in the Cambridge, LeMoile County, Vermont area. Danforth KEYES married Sarah CUTLER, daughter of Thomas(2) and Sarah (FISKE) CUTLER, at Warren, on December 6, 1764, and they had eight children.

At the beginning of hostilities, before the Lexington Alarm, colonial militia (minuteman) forces were formed in anticipation of a coming war with Britain. The men with prior service in the French and Indian War were sought to lead this militia and Danforth KEYES was selected as a Lieutenant Colonel of the Worcester County militia regiment. That regiment was assembled as soon as it was notified of the Battles of Lexington and Concord and it marched immediately to the scene of the action. Colonel KEYES served with the Massachusetts regiment of Colonel Ebenezer LEARNED at Roxbury and at Bunker's Hill. Later, on May 8, 1777, he was commissioned a Colonel of a regiment in the defense of Boston. He served in Rhode Island and then throughout the term of the war.

After the war, Colonel Danforth KEYES and his wife Sarah lived in Warren for the rest of their lives. He died in 1826, at the age of 86; she died in 1831, also at age 86. They are buried in Pine Grove Cemetery, in Warren, along side of his mother, Sarah (DANFORTH) KEYES, and his sister Mary. On Mary's grave, there is a large red memorial tombstone that tells of the death of her father and her brother from the Battle at Lake George, in 1755, and of Mary's death in 1756.

BEN DEAN LETTER -- WATERLOO, 1865

Benjamin Wood Dean, Bob Dean's greatgrandfather, was a Union cavalryman in the Civil War. Following is copy of a letter written by Ben Dean from the battle field to his wife, Sarepta, during the last year of that war. His letter was written with a dull pencil on cheap tablet paper. Most of the writing must have been at night using light from a campfire. His poor spelling and grammar indicates his limited education. The letter was very difficult to read and the following is my effort to reproduce it as accurately as possible.

— Bob Dean

Walter Loo
Tues Feb 14, 1865

Sarepta

I received yours and Pars [&] Marey Jane yesterday was glad to hear from home and you air well we air well and harty now but we hafta By a bout half that we eat we Bot one pound of Crackers the otheair day paid forty sence a pound Chease 75 sence a pound and paid 50 sence for a Beef Cutters harde [&] liver but we git more to eat then we did Muney cant last long with such Prices

Note.- Mary Jane was Sarepta's sister and wife of Joel Taylor. Francis was Ben Dean's son. The "Green River" must have been the Tennessee River. — RLD

of Augusta County, Virginia
by Mary Louise B. Todd

John Bare (b. Augusta Co., Va. ca 1791; d. near Greenville, Va. 9 Apr. 1871 'of kidney affection') was the youngest of Jacob and Barbary Bare's six children. When Jacob and the four older sons moved on to southern Indiana around 1819, John remained in Augusta County presumably in charge of the family mill and horse farm near Greenville on the South River in the Shenandoah Valley.

When Jacob Bare died in 1831 he left no will so his property in Virginia and Indiana was divided between the five sons and the children of his deceased daughter Polly Hatton. [By that time Barbary Bare had died as she was not mentioned in the settlement]. John Bare kept his share of the Augusta County land and sold his Indiana share. His mill prospered and he was able to add to his holdings from time to time until he owned about 2000 acres in the Wilda community in Stuart's Draft John Bare married on 6 Oct. 1825 Rebeckah Scott who was born in Virginia ca 1800. They had six children. One daughter, Corella, died in 1851. Rebeckah died a year later on 24 Feb. 1852 at the age of 52. According to her obituary she had been in delicate health for a few years and the shock of her daughter's death was too much for her. She was buried in the Bethel Presbyterian Church cemetery. The family suffered a third tragedy with the death of another daughter in 1853.

All three sons were involved in the Civil War. The youngest boy, Aristedore, was coming home on leave in March of 1863. When he reached the South River near Waynesboro the water was very high. In his hurry to get home he tried to cross the flooded river on horseback and was swept downstream to his death. He was buried in the Tinkling Spring Presbyterian Church cemetery.

Cicero Bare enlisted at the outset of the war in Lee's Rifles [later Co. D of the 25th Virginia Infantry]. He was wounded in the shoulder in the fighting near Gordonsville in May of 1864 and died in the hospital a few days later.

When John Bare died on 9 April 1870 'of kidney affection' his obituary in the local newspapers speaks of an additional problem--his deafness--which he endured with Christian fortitude. Altogether it would seem that he had a lot to bear in his lifetime.

He left no will and his estate was divided between his two surviving children, E. M. Burwell and Jacob M. Bare. Jacob M. Bare's portion included the millsites and water rights. His sister received slightly more land in acreage. The personal property was purchased by the two heirs.

The Virginia Landmarks Commission has recorded the J. M. Bare house as an early 19th century rectangular one story building with a bay and a gable roof. Structures identified as a spring house, smokehouses, stone mill and grist mills are located on the property which is along route 652 northeast of Greenville.

Rebecca, wife of John Bare, was received in the Bethel Presbyterian Church on 18 Aug. 1833; John Bare was received a week later on the 25th of August.

Children:

- a. Eli Mary Bare (b. Va. 2 Oct. 1826; bap. 20 Feb. 1836)
She married 17 Nov. 1857 Thomas Burwell.
- b. Martha Jane Ann Bare (b. Va. 3 Apr. 1828; bap. 20 Feb. 1836;
d. 23 June 1853)
She married 18 Dec. 1849 James W. Crawford, who later married 26 May 1857 Caroline Y. Messersmith.
- c. Jacob Meredith Bare (b. Va. 18 Jan. 1832; bap. 20 Feb. 1836)
The 1850 census lists him in his father's household as a farmer and in school. He married 15 Apr. 1858 Mary F. Hawpe (b. Va. ca 1833). He died 11 Mar. 1905 at Avis, Va., ch: Rebecca C. (b. ca 1859); John H. (b. ca 1861); Corilla Lee (b. ca 1866); Susan (b. Apr. 1870); Lynn H.; Alma.
- d. Corilla Floyd Bare (b. Va. 6 June 1833; bap. 20 Feb. 1836;
d. 3 Mar. 1851) Unmarried.
- e. Cicero Bare (b. Va. 8 June 1835; bap. 20 Feb. 1836)
He enlisted at the outset of the War between the States as a volunteer in Lee's Rifles commanded by Capt. D. Lilly. This was later Company D. of the 25th Virginia Infantry. He was wounded in the shoulder and died six days later in the hospital at Gordonsville in May of 1864, aged 29.
- f. Artemore Bare (b. Va. ca 1839; d. Augusta Co., Va., by 3 Mar. 1863). He drowned trying to cross the South River on horseback near Waynesboro on his way home on leave from the war. He was a member of a cavalry company. He was buried at Tinkling Spring Presbyterian Church cemetery.

TO CLIMB YOUR FAMILY TREE

WHEN I BEGAN TO SEARCH MY "ROOTS" TO CLIMB MY FAMILY TREE, I NEVER DREAMED WHAT COULD BE FOUND OR HOW MUCH THERE WAS TO SEE.

EACH ONE LEFT A PAPER TRAIL FOR ALL OF US TO FIND-IN CHURCHES, PICTURES, BIBLES, BOOKS; THEY WEREN'T JUST KIND.
WORKING, MOVING AND BUILDING A LIFE, CHILDREN WERE THEIR PRIDE.
YOU HAVE TO FOLLOW THEM YOU SEE, WHERE EVER THEY SEEMED TO HIDE.
TO TRACE THEM THROUGH THE YEARS CAN BE A WONDEROUS TRIP-A CAPTAIN IN THE ARMY OR A SAILOR ON A SHIP.
THE TIME HAS COME TO GET A START FOR ALL OUR CHILDREN'S SAKE-SO THEY WILL KNOW THEIR FAMILY AND BEGIN THE STEPS TO TAKE.
SO LET'S GO SEE OUR RELATIVES AND WRITE DOWN WHAT THEY SAY-
THEN WE CAN LEAVE BEHIND US OUR PAPER TRAIL TODAY!

Prodigy--Interactive Personal Service

Like so many of us out there, I had heard of Prodigy, but just hadn't taken the time to check it out. About one month ago I decided to take the plunge. I am sure glad I did!

At first I was skeptical because I am a long time member of another popular On Line service and never really had any good results from it. Of course, I mean in the Genealogy area. Also, some of the BBS services are very difficult to navigate and find your way around. Not so with Prodigy.

To get started, you must pick up a membership kit. In this kit is everything one needs to get started in a whole new world of adventure! Prodigy does offer a complete range of services, but for this discussion, I will be referring mainly to the Genealogy services. The kit comes with very detailed instructions on how to install the software onto your hard drive. Although a Hard Drive is not required.

As far as hardware is concerned, you will need an IBM PC, XT, AT, PS/2 or fully compatible computer. At least 640 K of RAM, and at least one 5-1/4" drive or one 3-1/2" drive, or a Hard Drive with at least 700 K of memory available, and a 5-1/4" or 3-1/2" disk drive. Software required is MS-DOS or PC-DOS, Version 2.0 or higher.

As far as monitor's go, you will get a fine picture with a VGA, MCGA, EGA, CGA, Hercules or compatible graphics adapter. Although, if you have a CGA graphics adapter with a color monitor, it will display the service in black and white. Finally, you must have a Hayes or compatible, 1200, 2400 or 9600 bps Modem in your system. A tone or pulse phone service works fine.

After getting the system installed, it's so simple to get to the Genealogy section and find what you want. Just activate the Prodigy program, type in your personal ID number and password at the opening prompt and presto! Changol Up pops the opening screen. From there you just click on the "Jump" button and type in "Genealogy". This takes you directly to Genealogical Department and gives you two choices. Either click on Myra Vanderpool Gormley's article or on Genealogy BBS. I might add here that since the Orlando Sentinel stopped carrying Myra's column some time ago, this gives one the opportunity to see her article every week. It changes every week and is very easy to print. Just click on the "Copy" button.

Once you get into the Genealogy BBS area, you will find a virtual universe of topics to choose from. My favorite section is the "Surnames" section. You will find queries on surnames that people have submitted and responses to same. The way it is set up makes it easy to find queries that interest you and easy to respond to someone else's.

COMPUTER CORNER - continued

I had only been using the Genealogy BBS for a couple of weeks, when I discovered someone's query about my great great grandfather. I almost went right through the monitor screen!! That was about three weeks ago. Since that time, I now know that this person is a third cousin of mine. We have spoken on the telephone and have exchanged information through the mail and continue to exchange information through the E-Mail feature on Prodigy. Sounds great doesn't it? Because of this contact, I have had a major breakthrough on two of my direct lines and pushed one particular line back from 1813 to the early 1600's. In the process, I discovered the name of my immigrant ancestor for that line and where he was from in England.

I could go on and on about this service, but I guess you get the point. The Prodigy service costs me only $14.95 per month and up to six members can be on the membership in the same household. You get thirty free messages per month on the basic membership. After that, it will cost you $.25 per each additional E-mail message. Of course, the other services are fun too! Things like shopping on line, getting all the latest news, sports, games, reference library, investment items, buying airline tickets on line, and on and on. Did I mention the first month's membership is free? Oh, I almost forgot... there is an access to the Internet. That's a whole topic for discussion in itself. That's all for now. See you next time.

BOOK REVIEW

JACKSON COUNTY, INDIANA, OBITUARIES 1881 - 1885

Author: Jonette Karen JOHNSON
Heritage Books, Inc.
Bowie, MD
Copyright 1994
(243 pp; index; paper; $23.00)

This book is the second in a series of Jackson County, Indiana, obituaries by this author. The obituaries, arranged chronologically, were taken from The Seymour Daily Lever, The Daily Local Lever, The Seymour Times, The Seymour Weekly Democrat, The Seymour Daily Democrat and The Brownstown Banner.

Each entry includes the full name of the deceased, and, when available: date, age, cause of death, spouse's and children's names, and the paper in which the obituary was found. Some of the entries also mention the names of members of the extended family of the deceased, county or city of origin of the deceased, and occupation. Maiden names are often included, and the book also includes an every name index of almost 4,000 entries.

CORRECTION

In the article Passage to America (Buried Treasures, Vol. XXV, No. 4, pp 73-74) by Rhoda White ROLLIN regarding her maternal great-grandmother, Juliette EATON, the last paragraph should read as follows:

Three years ago I finally managed to trace the WHITES to Massachusetts, to William WHITE, signed of the Mayflower Compact. With this information in my hand, I wanted to run to my father and shout, "Look, Dad! Your folks didn't come over on a boat (of their own, they rode over) on the same ship Grandma's did." My father died in 1938, my grandmother in 1940. Knowing my grandmother as I did, I am sure she found out the particulars as soon as she arrived in heaven and had already set my father straight.

[Editor: The words in parentheses and italics were inadvertently omitted from the original story.]
